

HE'S CHANGING ME

Have you ever looked around, and found that you were on your own

Has your heart been so broken you could die

Have you felt like a prisoner with no means of escape

Well I can tell you, I have been there too

Have you ever been rejected, felt that you were of no worth

Have your burdens been so crushing you've lost your strength

Have you hoped you'd find the meaning to the purpose of your life

Well I can tell you, I have been there too

But God's changing me, He's changing me

More like His Son I will become with each new day

God's changing me, what a victory

In His Name, I will proclaim, He's changing me

Guitar break

But God's changing me, He's changing me

More like His Son I will become with each new day

God's changing me, what a victory

In His Name, I will proclaim, He's changing me

In His Name, I will proclaim, He's changing me

In His Name, I will proclaim, He's changing me

Words & Music by Margaret Lloyd © 1990

Hill City Music

This song is copyright only in that it cannot be copied for commercial purposes. However, it would bless the writer greatly to see it copied and distributed freely for personal or corporate usage to anyone who is spiritually hungry or thirsty.